I find it interesting that when Paul discusses the pitfalls of being rich—that one might trust in the wealth rather than in God, that Paul writes that God “richly provides us with everything to enjoy.” God provides everything. He gives, and He takes away, but He is the one who provides everything. That is an important perspective to keep. And Paul also writes that everything is to be enjoyed. God intentionally provides us with things to enjoy. It is OK to enjoy the things that God provides. It would be wrong to be provided something by the Lord, and then not enjoy it. That would be ungrateful, wouldn't it?

So if you are enjoying the summer—the long days, beaches, vacations, picnics, camping, hikes, watching things grow, and many other things, say a little prayer of thanks to the Lord who provides these things for us to enjoy.

Bill
